

'Pig Woman' May Leave Sick Bed to Testify in Trial Today

IDENTIFYING FATEFUL CARD. Visiting card found near Dr. Hall's body and alleged to bear Willie Stevens's fingerprint was identified by Detective Totten. Photo snapped as he was quizzed shows: (1) W. Stevens, (2) Mrs. Hall, (3) H. Stevens, (4) Judge Cleary, (5) Justice Parker, (6) Totten. (Photo Graphic.)

GRAVELY ILL,

Mrs. Jane Gibson, state's star witness, may yet be taken from hospital to testify in Hall-Mills trial today. Last night she was under close watch at hospital. Photo shows nurse entering room as Trooper Doyle guards door. (P. & A.)

FIRM DENIAL.

"Absolutely no," was reply of Ralph Gorsline when asked by Prosecutor Simpson if he saw Henry Stevens at scene of Hall-Mills murder. He is shown leaving court house.
